22M X 16M

The three-tier auditorium, seating 1600, is one of the largest in the Netherlands. Its rounded form means that distances are short and each seat has a good view of the stage. The impressive starry ceiling is an artwork by Peter Struycken comprising 500 computer-controlled lights. The stage can be equipped with a large projection screen and can, of course, be set up in many other creative ways. Surprise your guests by using scenery or incorporating an opera or ballet performance into your event!

The stalls foyer has three fitted bars and is ideally suited to a reception, trade fair, presentation or dinner. Smaller groups attending a performance can also use parts of the foyer for a private reception in the interval. The impressive staircase from the entrance hall can also be set up as a gallery with chairs and cushions. This creates a more informal, light and creative spot in the theatre for presentations and performances. The theatre shop is also located in the foyer, giving your guests the opportunity to buy a souvenir of the performance or event.

The 1st balcony foyer also has access to the exclusive VIP room, where the theatre receives its important guests, which is suitable for a meet & greet, a press conference or a private drinks party. Going up a level to the 2nd balcony foyer extends your view even further along the River Amstel!

The entresol is situated between the stalls foyer and the 1st balcony foyer and can be reached by the spiral staircase and the lift. Both during the daytime and at night, the big curved glass façade offers a magnificent view of the entrance, the River Amstel and the foyers. The light, airy space is finished off by two unique paintings by the Amsterdam artist Armando. The entresol is an ideal space for a reception, smaller presentation or dinner. It can be used separately or in combination with the adjoining foyers. An adjoining semi-private terrace is available on request.

As the name suggests, this is where the theatre receives important guests, including members of the royal family and stars that have performed in one of the many productions. Featuring a chandelier and mirror wall, the room has a unique character. The VIP room has its own small pantry, cloakroom and toilets. It is often used for exclusive receptions before or after a performance. On request, the room can also be equipped for a presentation or meeting. The options include an exclusive dinner arrangement for a select company of guests.

ODEONZAAL

The Odeonzaal is the education studio of Dutch National Opera & Ballet, where the introductions to the performances are given, for example. The space was designed by architect Diederik Dam and interior designer Richard Hutten. The spectacular glass skylight that can change colour and the wooden floor give the room a modern character. The raised sections at the sides enable a stage space to be built and stimulate creativity. The room is suited to many options, including a presentation, reception, afterparty, fashion show, exclusive dinner or workshop!
